OBAMA CHOOSES LINDHAUS AGAIN!

The renewed partnership between the White House and Lindhaus for 2010 lasts. The Italian company based in Padova owned by Michele Massaro has managed again this year to beat the fierce competition and win the prestigious supply.

105 is the quantity of RX HEPA carpet cleaners ordered by the U.S. administration for the first shipment. This is a professional carpet cleaner that has become the worldwide benchmark for its unique filtering system and its high precision building technology.

The quietness, the handling and the high level of comfort for the operator are features that distinguish the excellence level of this line of carpet cleaner. RX HEPA is available in three models: 380e – 450e – 500e. Among the main features of this machine, note that since July 2008 the Rotafil suction motor is a new two stage high efficiency motor, which increases performances by 15% maintaining the power consumption unchanged.

The business relationship between Lindhaus and the White House reaches its tenth year this year. The business relationship dates back to year 2001, after the collapse of the Twin Towers and the anthrax alarm following the terrorist threats. At that time Lindhaus managed to win the competition with big multinational companies of the sector.
